

said lower end of said second arm being attached to a base supported by a plurality of rotatable members; [and]

a line passing through said upper end of said second arm and said lower end of said second arm being oriented at an acute angle greater than zero with respect to a vertical line passing through said base; and

said first arm being rotatable between a first angular position in which said at least one platform is positioned a first distance above said rotatable members and a second angular position in which said at least one platform is positioned a second distance above said rotatable members that is greater than said first distance.

3. (Amended) The vertically adjustable mobile computer workstation of claim 1 wherein said at least one platform includes a hinged monitor support;

said monitor support is movable between a first monitor angle and a second monitor angle; and said first monitor angle and said second monitor angle [is coupled to] are dependent upon an angular position of said first arm.

10. (Amended) A vertically adjustable mobile computer workstation comprising:

a first arm having an upper end and a lower end;

at least one platform being attached to said upper end of said first arm;

a computer input device and a computer output device being supported by said at least one platform;

a second arm having an upper end and a lower end;

said lower end of said second arm being attached to a base supported by a plurality of rotatable members; [and]

a line passing through said upper end of said second arm and said lower end of said second arm being oriented at an acute angle greater than zero with respect to a vertical line passing through said base; and

said first arm being rotatable between a first angular position in which said at least one platform is positioned a first distance above said rotatable members and a second angular position in which said at least one platform is positioned a second distance above said rotatable members that is greater than said first distance.

13. (Amended) The vertically adjustable mobile computer workstation of claim 10 wherein said at least one platform includes a hinged monitor support;

said monitor support is movable between a first monitor angle and a second monitor angle; and

said first monitor angle and said second monitor angle [is coupled to] are dependent upon an angular position of said first arm.

17. (Amended) A vertically adjustable mobile computer workstation comprising:

a first arm having an upper end and a lower end;

at least one platform being attached to said upper end of said first arm;

a computer input device and a computer output device being supported by said at least one platform;

a second arm having an upper end and a lower end;

said lower end of said second arm being attached to a base supported by a plurality of rotatable members;

a neutral support stop mechanism operably coupled between said first arm and said second arm; [and]
